

LAST LECTURE

While watching the last lecture I thought it was really interesting how he only had a short time to live but wasn't really worried. He seemed really calm and kind of happy even though he knew what was going to happen. It kind of blew my mind because usually when people receive bad news they tend to act a whole lot differently. I was just amazed by how he was just giving this lecture about living life and how he wanted to become someone so he set off to do it. I would usually just reflect on myself while watching this because I'm 20 and I don't really know how my life is going to go on the future. It's scary because I mean I haven't really been driven by anything and it made me question myself and how my habits should change. So I can be this happy person with no regrets and just make the best out of everything. Just being content with what I have taking nothing for granted. So I mean the video really opened up my eyes and made me want to go after my dreams.
